POISON CANDY SENT TO NURSE FOR REVENGE?

Believe Ex-Patient May Have Sent it to "Get Even" With Nurse
QUESTIONED MEN

Heroic Efforts Made to Save Hospital Workers Who Ate Candy

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Seven of the West End hospital nurses fought for their lives today after they had eaten candy containing cyanide poison. The candy, which was addressed to Miss Helen Rosenfeld, was home-made chocolate fudge. A typewritten card in the box read: "From a patient who was an ardent admirer, this candy was faithfully made."

Miss Rosenfeld, when she received the box of candy, gathered other nurses about and offered them some. In addition to Miss Rosenfeld, others are desperately ill.

Analysis of the candy by physicians showed it contained enough poison to kill every person in the hospital. Every portion and crumb of the candy contained poison. Within a few minutes after the girls had eaten the candy they were writhing in agony and then fell unconscious on the floor. Quick use of stomach pumps saved their lives, it was said at the hospital.

Two brothers, whom police said were in love with Miss Rosenfeld, were questioned in connection with the case. Authorities stated they have information to show that each of the brothers "bragged" that Miss Rosenfeld was his fiancée. These men denied any knowledge of the plot.

Dr. Fred Miller, one of the staff surgeons, said that examination of the candy proved it was made by someone with an expert knowledge of poisons and the properties of cyanide.

According to Dr. Miller, red pepper was mixed with the poison to make it more effective. Postal authorities stepped into the case in an attempt to trace the box. The theory that the candy was sent by a discharged and disgruntled patient in a desire for revenge also was investigated.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19.—Brady got it first. The lost handbag of San Francisco's district attorney, over which Prohibition Director E. F. Mitchell expressed curiosity yesterday when informed by a newspaper reporter that its owner had said it contained a quart or two of refreshment, has been recovered by the district attorney.

Patrolman L. D. ("Dinty") Moore and Brady recovered the bag last night from a local photographer, who had taken it by mistake and left his own bag at the railroad station. The district attorney's bag had been unopened, and it probably will not be, as far as newspaper reporters and Director Mitchell are concerned, it was strongly intimated.

WHERE WILL THEY GO FROM OKLAHOMA?

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 19.—The Mike Gibbons-Mike O'Dowd fight scheduled to be held at Tulsa next Tuesday will not be permitted, Governor Robertson said today. Chased from Wichita by action of Kansas authorities, the promoters of the fight will have to look elsewhere for a site, the Oklahoma chief executive asserted today in a lengthy statement.

"The affair is not a boxing contest in any sense of the word and will not be permitted in Oklahoma," said the governor. It was understood here the fight promoters were considering moving the fight to a point in Missouri or Colorado.

GLENDALE CHAMBER MEMBERS ATTEND

A meeting of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of the San Fernando valley was held at Pacoima Tuesday night. At this session Cecil Wilcox, secretary of the chamber of Los Angeles, was elected president of the associated organization, and E. W. McCleary of Van Nuys was selected as secretary. The following members of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce have been selected to represent Glendale on the board of directors of the associated organization: Stevely Packer, Geo. Bentley and J. A. Newton. The next meeting of the Associated Chamber of Commerce will be held at San Fernando next month.

NEW BRICK STORE BE STARTED SOON

A new brick store building will be erected at 104-14 South Maryland avenue by Betz, Daniels & Botherick. A permit for the building which is to cost $10,000 was issued today and work on the actual construction will start at once. Messrs. Betz and Daniels will construct the building and hope to have it completed within 90 days.

Anything Worth While in This World Takes Time, Says Mr. Foley

It takes a long time to do anything worth while, says James W. Foley in "The Listening Post" tonight. And in his philosophical way Mr. Foley discusses the need of a reconciliation of views and application to the business in hand.

Henry James, in his comments, says that the state of Washington has a law that permits inquiry into the ethics of lawyers, and he discusses this in his able manner.

Dr. Frank Crane, after looking over English newspapers, writes on English wit and gives samples of it.

Among tonight's editorials is one on "A Land Without Smiles." It is Russia, of course, where the people have been forced into misery, where tyranny has devastated the fields and souls have been deprived of hope.

And on the editorial page, too, you will find that old favorite poem of your childhood, "The Star," up above the world so high. It's a good editorial page. Read it.

STRANGE STORY OF SEA INVESTIGATED

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 19.—The yacht Spindrift, stolen recently from San Pedro and Anton Krugh, a young Norwegian sailor, is held here today while officers are investigating the strange story of the sea told by the sailor. Krugh says he was standing on a dock at San Pedro on September 26, when a man approached and offered him $20 to help sail the boat to San Diego. Later telling Krugh the boat was bound for Hawaii. Two weeks ago, the "mysterious stranger" was knocked overboard near Todos Santos Island when the boom of the ship suddenly jibed, according to Krugh. The fishing boat Colleen towed the Spindrift into this port.

Can't Make Wife Pay Alimony Is Court's Ruling

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 19.—Efforts of man to acknowledge equal rights of women today ended in failure. Women do not have to pay alimony, Judge E. A. Montgomery decided. Benjamin Lish, alleged his wife sold property jointly owned by them and never shared the proceeds with him, sued for divorce and alimony. Mrs. Minnie Lish contended the property was bought with her money. Lish suffered a paralytic stroke two years ago and has been unable to work. He said his wife was cruel to him.

GLENDALE MEN YOU SHOULD KNOW

WILLIAM REEVES

City Manager William Reeves, is a western man by birth and by association. He was born in Seattle, Washington, and lived there until the outbreak of the Spanish American war. He has learned the carpenter trade, electrician's trade, is a telegraph operator and graduated from Stanford University as an electrical engineer.

At the outbreak of the Spanish American war Mr. Reeves enlisted in the first company of the first organized signal battalion of the United States army and served with this organization in the Philippines for more than a year until his health broke. After discharge from the army Mr. Reeves came to Southern California.

Mr. Reeves went to Pasadena in 1901 and engaged in business. In 1910 he was appointed city electrician and served in that capacity until 1913 when he was elected city commissioner. During his tenure of office as city electrician he installed the electric light plant. It was through his efforts as city commissioner that Pasadena adopted the city manager form of government in 1913 and he was appointed first city manager. He came to Glendale to accept the position of city manager last August.

PACT WITH GERMANY RATIFIED, 66 TO 20, BY U. S. SENATE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—President Harding may proclaim that the United States is officially at peace with the Central powers on Armistice Day, November 11. Formal peace between this country and her former enemies was virtually an achieved fact today, however, by the senate's ratification last night of the Harding peace treaties with Germany, Austria and Hungary. The vote was 66 to 20. The four countries now will formally exchange ratifications, after which peace will be officially proclaimed.

LA CRESCENTA HAS MUCH ACTIVITY

LA CRESCENTA, Oct. 19.—"Cuddle Doon," the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Thomas, was the scene of much gaiety the past week. Last Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Thomas celebrated their twenty-ninth wedding anniversary by a quiet home dinner, having as guests Mrs. Thomas' brother and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. Haskell of Montebello. Mrs. Haskell is the sister of Mayor Cryer of Los Angeles and was one of the first pupils of the first school held in La Crescenta. Friday Mr. and Mrs. Thomas were hosts to a charming group of Texas friends, among them Mrs. C. L. Wallis, Mrs. E. Hammond, Mrs. R. W. Knox, and the Misses Byrd and Ethelyn Wallis of Houston, Texas. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Thomas had a number of friends drop in to tea informally. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Cosmo Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Hanna of San Francisco, Mrs. Martin Erickson and their daughter, Mrs. Garden Bullis, Mrs. C. Blondell, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cavanaugh of Santa Barbara, Mrs. E. F. Robbins, Mrs. Catherine Watson, Mrs. George Patton, Miss Anita Patton, Dr. and Mrs. E. Wills of Pasadena, Dr. and Mrs. A. V. Andrews and Misses Gertrude and Ruth Andrews of Los Angeles, and Miss Sydney Ladd of Denver.

GIBBS TAKES TWO BUSINESS PARTNERS

Guy H. Gibbs, of the Pyramid Paint Products company, 704 East Broadway, has taken as associates, Frederick Hayes of Glendale and Clifford Shaw of Los Angeles, and will manufacture paints at 125 East Ninth street, Los Angeles, and will also conduct a retail paint and wall-board house at the Los Angeles address. The Glendale store will be operated as a retail branch of the Los Angeles manufacturing business.

Late News Flashes

LONDON, Oct. 19.—"England is in the grip of the worst unemployment situation of the century," Premier Lloyd George declared in Commons today.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19.—A maximum temperature of 99 degrees, shortly before noon today, established a mid-October record since 1885. The forecast for tomorrow was fair and slightly cooler.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—Japan will bring up the question of non-fortification of certain islands in the Pacific, strategic in naval warfare, in the Washington conference on limitation of armaments.

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 19.—Quon Foo and Wong Loy, convicted on a charge of murdering Quon You of the Suey On tong, will be sentenced Friday. The jury deliberated nearly 25 hours and Judge Carey had decided to release them when a woman juror changed her mind and voted for conviction.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—The acceptance by all countries invited to the Washington conference on limitation of armaments and Pacific and Far Eastern questions was completed today with the receipt by the state department of Belgium's acceptance of President Harding's invitation.

LONDON, Oct. 19.—Earl Cavan, who is going to Washington to represent the British army at the limitation of armament conference, will decorate the grave of America's unknown soldier with a Victoria cross, awarded by King George, probably on November 11.

LONG BEACH, Oct. 19.—The army balloon piloted by Captain L. S. Stone, which landed at Alamitos Bay, near here, this morning took to the air again at 11:10 a. m. with Captain Stone and one other member of the crew in the basket.

PARIS, Ill., Oct. 19.—S. T. Turner was tarred and feathered at Trowbridge, 20 miles from here, today by 150 farmers who wore no masks. Turner was captured at his house after an all-night siege. He was accompanied by a woman who the farmers declared was not his wife. The woman was permitted to depart unmolested.

ASTORIA, Ore., Oct. 19.—Joe Corrigan of Warrenton, Ore., near here, and George Hickie of Astoria, chauffeur, are believed to be the two men who lie dead at the bottom of the Lewis and Clark river in the wreck of an automobile which skidded through the open draw of the bridge early today.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 19.—Operating alone, a bandit obtained several thousand dollars today when he held up and robbed the express car of the Canadian Pacific Railway between Swift Current and Moose Jaw. The train operates between Vancouver and Toronto. The bandit entered the express car soon after the train left Swift Current. The messenger was bound and gagged, the safe opened and looted and the robber dropped off at the next stop.

AUTOMOBILE DEATH TRAP FOR FIVE MEN IN RIVER

Reported Going at High Speed, Not Seeing
Open Draw

ASTORIA, Ore., Oct. 19.—Two men are believed to be lying trapped in the wreck of an automobile at the bottom of the Lewis and Clark river, near here today, and one man and two women are in local hospitals as the result of the car, in which they were riding plunging through an open draw at 5 o'clock this morning. The names of the men believed to have been trapped, Harry E. Edin, San Francisco barber, Miss Pearl Hutchinson, caretaker of the Flavel Tavern here and another woman, believed to be the proprietress of an Astoria rooming house, are the injured. The draw had been opened for a steamer and the car, said to have been traveling at a high speed, was unable to stop.

ARREST MAN WITH STOLEN SECURITIES

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 19.—A five months' nationwide search by federal authorities ended here today with the arrest of A. H. Caim, charged with being implicated with two other men in the train robbery at Sacramento, Cal. May 20 in which $100,000 in securities were taken. Caim was taken into custody by two Chicago postal inspectors, who charge he had in his possession securities and bonds stolen from the United States mails. Caim claims to be a Milwaukee man, saying he had lived here practically all his life. He said he was married May 24, five days after the robbery.

ATTEMPT ON LIFE OF U. S. AMBASSADOR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—An attempt on the life of American Ambassador Myron T. Herrick in Paris was reported to state department officials here today. A bomb wrapped up like a dry goods parcel, was delivered at the ambassador's residence while he was out, the advisers said. It exploded while it was being opened by a servant, who was injured.

GOVERNMENT HAS WEAPONS CASE OF STRIKE

President Harding Is Assured Roads Can Be Kept in Use

HAS PRECEDENTS

Can Draft Rail Road Men Into Service If It Needs Them

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—President Harding has been assured that if a show-down comes in the threatened rail strike he has weapons powerful enough to prevent any nationwide paralysis of the transportation systems. Officials here now believe the show-down is coming, but Harding is determined that neither side shall successfully defy the government, nor endanger the public interest.

If both sides hold to their present positions, the labor board will make public this fact with the express purpose of swinging public opinion into line behind the administration and against both the roads and the men. After that, the show-down between the government and the railroad forces, both capital and labor will be inevitable, officials said. Then the following weapons will be available:

1.—Tying up the brotherhoods' strike funds. This was done by the government in the coal strike.

2.—Criminal proceedings on the ground of a conspiracy to interfere with interstate commerce. This weapon if invoked, would put brotherhood heads in jail. It is considered unlikely that it would be used unless the strikers followed the strike with deliberate efforts to hold up trains.

3.—Taking over of the railroads under the national defense act. In the event this should become necessary to keep the mails moving and food supplies available, there is plenty of authority for it and the strikers, in the opinion of some government officials, might even be "drafted" into service to run the trains.

HUNT FOR BONES WAS UNSUCCESSFUL IN TODAY'S SEARCH

Officers Continue Search at Verdugo Home But Find No New Clue

A party of men were sent out to the former Verdugo home place on Verdugo road this morning to make further excavations in a hunt for more bones to correspond with the skulls and bones found under the house Monday.

The men dug in the vicinity of where the bones were found, but discovered nothing but several small bones. The bones found this morning may be either those of a small child or of an animal, Chief of Police Martin said.

The finding of two skulls was accounted for by Dr. H. B. Crocker, a former owner of the property, who said that they were his property and had been in his possession for 20 years. He had used them in the study of anatomy, he said, and when he built the portion of the house under which the skulls were found he buried them under the floor. He was unable to account for the presence of the other bones and on seeing them said that he believed them to be animal bones that had been dragged under the house by his dogs. City Health Officer Dr. J. E. Eckles said that in his estimation the bones were those of a small boy about five years old.

PYTHIAN KNIGHTS VISITED BY HEAD

The rank of Knight was conferred on a class of 12 candidates at the meeting of the Knights of Pythias lodge Tuesday night. The work was put on by the local team, assisted by outside members of the lodge.

Grand Chancellor Brown of Los Angeles delivered an interesting address. Sheriff Traeger of Los Angeles was also present. Following the initiations a banquet, prepared by Knight Edwards and associates, was enjoyed. Attorney G. H. King served as toastmaster.

A large number of the members of the Glendale order of K. of P. will journey by motor on Friday evening to Pomona, where they will attend the convention of the Citrus Belt Association.

STATE ASKS DEATH OF DR. BRUMFIELD

ROSEBURG, Ore., Oct. 19.—"Do your duty to your homes. If the defendant's life seems forfeited, as the evidence demands, then you will do more for him than he did for Dennis Russell. He will have time to make peace with his God." Thus did Joseph L. Hammersley, deputy prosecuting attorney, charge the jury as the state summed up its case against Dr. Richard M. Brumfield, whom it charges with having murdered Dennis Russell July 13.

TRAIN SERVICE ASSURED HERE. NEAR FUTURE

Official of Road Gives Assurance of Regular Stops

LINEBERGER WRITES

New Members Added to Chamber at Meeting Tuesday Night

It is practically settled that Southern Pacific trains shall stop regularly at Glendale within a short time. The special railroad committee of the chamber of commerce presented a report to this effect at the meeting of the board of directors yesterday. Peter L. Ferry, chairman, stated that his committee met with Mr. McGinnis of the Southern Pacific and the committee was practically assured that before a great while this city will be afforded regular service. Mr. McGinnis thought it would be a good idea to have all of the trains, with the exception of the Owl, Lark and Express, that pass through Glendale stop.

A committee consisting of Messrs. Hollister, Gregg and Packer, was appointed to confer with the bankers of Glendale, to see if arrangements cannot be made to have one or more of the banks remain open Saturday afternoon and night, for the accommodation of those who wish to make deposits and to have checks cashed.

A communication was read from Congressman Lineberger stating that he had received the letter recently sent to him by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce and assuring the people of Glendale that he is doing everything in his power to secure an independent postoffice for Glendale.

The following names were added to the chamber's membership roll: Automobile Tire Co. of California, Inc., Gertrude S. Ballard, Broadway Seed Store, Cunningham Mfg. Co., C. A. Doty, Falper & Robinson, J. E. Howes, Jackson's Garage, E. L. McGhee, Miller & Miller, Hattie C. Phelon, Seaman & Hancock, Harriet Switzer, Clarence R. Wells, L. H. Wilson, Edward M. Lynch.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Oct. 19.—Juanita Daoust, 20-year-old Los Angeles girl, today instituted suit for $100,000 "heart balm" against Walter K. Straley, rich oil operator of Taft. Miss Daoust alleged that Straley is avoiding a promise to marry her. The trial will be conducted in Judge H. A. Peair's court. Because of the bitter feeling against oil operators, on the part of the striking workmen, extra guards for the courtroom will probably be necessitated.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal., Oct. 19.—Juanita Daoust, 20-year-old Los Angeles girl, today instituted suit for $100,000 "heart balm" against Walter K. Straley, rich oil operator of Taft. Miss Daoust alleged that Straley is avoiding a promise to marry her. The trial will be conducted in Judge H. A. Peair's court. Because of the bitter feeling against oil operators, on the part of the striking workmen, extra guards for the courtroom will probably be necessitated.

MOTORCYCLE COPS TAKE NEW SHIFTS

While Glendale has only two motorcycle officers they are two of the busiest men in the district. For several months motorcycle Officers Trautwein and Collins have worked the night shifts and motorists felt free to violate all traffic ordinances and speed laws during the day providing there was no patrolman in sight.

The old order has changed. Acting upon a suggestion of Chief Martin, Officers Trautwein and Collins have changed their system and are now working a different beat each day. Motorists are warned to observe traffic regulations in Glendale at all times whether it is daylight or dark as the time that they select to "overlook" an ordinance may be the time the officers are on the job.

Briand and Jusserand Hold French Disarmament Reins

PARIS, Oct. 19. — In the hands of France's "Big Two"—Premier Briand and Ambassador Jusserand—will rest in the main the French delegation's part to be played in President Harding's disarmament conference, which will open in Washington, November 11.

Premier Briand has been definitely announced as head of France's delegation to the conference, while Ambassador Jusserand will be his "right-hand man." The premier, who will remain in Washington only for two weeks, will turn the leadership of the French delegation over to Jusserand when he leaves the American capital.

Minister of Colonies Sarraut is the third member of the French delegation, according to official announcement. Naming of the fourth delegate is expected momentarily. He probably will be M. Loucheur, Minister of Liberated Regions. M. Vignaux's name has been prominently mentioned in connection with appointment of the fourth member. He, however, is expected to be forced to remain in France by his League of Nations work.

Scores of under secretaries, stenographers and other minor members of the French delegation are now being mobilized to accompany the French delegates to Washington.

The Barton Bedtime Stories

WHY TRAILER THE HOUND WAS STUBBORN

By JOHN BARTON

(Copyright, 1921, by The Associated Newspapers.)

Nibble Rabbit's heart stopped still—as still as Trailer the Hound. And Trailer stood there with his feet braced stubbornly and his tail hanging. "No!" he growled. "I'm not going one step farther. I like a good chase, but not where I do the running. I can manage one fox, but a whole pack of them—"

"There are only two," urged Nibble. "And one's just a small one. They won't know you're alone—they'll start to run the minute they hear your terrible song."

"Maybe they will," sniffed the dog. "And then again maybe they won't. What then? I'm not going to fight them. I'm too scared of getting my ears torn." (Hounds always are; that's why any little snip of a terrier can bully them). He turned to go home.

Yes, he actually turned! The only helper Nibble had been able to find was going back on him. Right when the bunny had got him so close to the "Little Dark Pool" where the wicked beasts were waiting with open jaws for poor Tad Coon that Nibble could actually hear the waterfall go splashing into it.

"There Are Only Two," Urged Nibble.

So close that it didn't take ears as long as Nibble's to hear Tad wail: "Oh, Chips Beaver! O-oh, Thunder-paws! O-oh, Nibble Rabbit! Aren't you ever co-oming? These foxes are so mean I'm getting skairt of them. And my tongue's hanging out. I haven't had a drink since yesterday and it's 'most to-morrow morning. Wa-wa-wa!"

"Grrr!" snarled the hound. "So that's where the wind blows! You want me to fight for that scoundrel who played me such a trick. You know mighty well I'd never bare a tooth to help him."

"But he's a friend of Tommy Peele's."

Then let Tommy's dog save him. Tommy's no master of mine. "How—how can you act so!" Nibble almost sobbed. Tad's not a scoundrel. He just didn't know any better than to throw that buzzer's nest at you. He wouldn't throw another!"

But just then a fox began sassing Tad back at the top of his yap. "Hang out your tongue, you ringtailed rascal! Maybe you'll know how ours feel after you threw those prickly caterpillars all over us."

"He wouldn't, wouldn't he?" snapped Trailer. "That's even worse. Ach! He drew his own tongue between his teeth. "Think of having to lick the nasty things off. I feel like helping the foxes."

BETTY COMSTOCK IN NEW ROLE AT T.D.&L.

One of the most unusual roles ever seen in a motion picture is that portrayed by Betty Comstock in her first starring vehicle, "At the End of the World," which will be seen at the T. D. L. theater today and tomorrow. Miss Comstock is seen as "Cherry," the beautiful daughter of a broken down Englishman who runs a cafe and gambling palace in Shanghai, China. She grows up in the atmosphere of the gay resort, serving as a lure for her father's establishment, yet taking perfect care of herself and possessing fine qualities that are still dormant. Then comes romance, and into this romance breaks the emotions of the lives of other men who are made desperate by her charms.

Charley Murray in Mack Sennett's comedy, "His Unhappy Finish," Kinograms, and Henri Monnet's organ solo complete the program.

NEW CITY HALL WILL BE ERECTED SOON
IN EAGLE ROCKOption Has Been Taken on Lot With Privilege to Build at OnceIn keeping with the rapid growth of Eagle Rock the city trustees have inaugurated an improvement program, which will be far-reaching in furthering the already phenomenal growth.
At its meeting Monday the trustees discussed the erection of the new city hall, bonds for which were voted some time ago.An option, with the privilege of buying at once, has been taken on a lot located on the northeast corner of Colorado and Fairmont streets, and it is very likely the city will close the deal within the next few days, and immediately take steps to erect the much needed city hall and fire department building. Another meeting of the council will be held Monday night to further discuss plans.CHAMBER TO BOOST FOR EAGLE ROCKThe Eagle Rock Chamber of Commerce is planning to hold a "get-together" banquet very soon and to launch a program of activities that will do much toward putting Eagle Rock to the front. C. L. Suits, the live-wire secretary, states that the chamber has various things to work out, among them being more literature setting forth the city's advantages, more improved streets, community entertainment, etc.The chamber has a live set of officers at its head. The officers are:
W. L. Miller, president; C. L. Suits,
secretary; Dr. H. B. Crawford, M.
Levy and Mr. Warren, vice-presidents;
F. E. Biles, treasurer.In the past the chamber of commerce has done a splendid work in putting Eagle Rock to the front, and only recently had printed descriptive literature which sets forth the advantages of the Gem City in their true light.MOVIE PICTURES TO BE IN NEW HOMESo far Eagle Rock has not had a moving picture theater, but the public schools very generously provided this form of amusement for the community. Friday night was designated some time ago as "movie night,"
and a good program has been given.
There is talk today that with the completion of more new buildings, a picture theater will be put in. With a population of around 4,000 people it would seem that a theater could be made to pay at Eagle Rock.HIGH WATER MARK IS HIT IN EAGLE ROCK
BUILDING BOOMMonth's Permits Up to $72-
000, Year's Figures Near MillionThe high water mark in building at Eagle Rock, the Gem Foothill city, was reached today when the city clerk issued a permit for another substantial store building, which will shortly be erected in this rapidly growing municipality. It brought the month's permits to $71,991.00, making the total for the first nine months of the year $758,062.00."Building activities in Eagle Rock and vicinity have surpassed those of any community of equal size in Southern California," said City Clerk Marst-solt to the Press reported. "Notwithstanding Eagle Rock has only four square miles of territory, one-fourth of which is too hilly for building, our little city has grown in population and building more in proportion to its size and population than any municipality in the state," continued the popular city official, and he backed up his argument with figures that proved this assertion.MORE SHELVING IN PUBLIC LIBRARYEagle Rock has a splendid library in its own $10,000 building, but the trustees are not content to allow the library to go backward. Many improvements are being made, including the addition of more shelving, etc.Mrs. Blanche A. Gardner, the efficient librarian, is constantly endeavoring to improve the service, and judging from the favorable comments heard on all sides she has adopted as a working slogan, "Monthly circulation must exceed population," and she states this has been the case for many months.GET ACQUAINTED PARTY SATURDAYA "Get-Acquainted Party" is scheduled to take place at the 20th Century
Women's Club House, Kenilworth and Howard, on Saturday night, October 24, at 8 p. m. This affair is one of many forms of entertainment provided for the young people, and it is announced that games and dancing will occupy the evening. The young people are invited to "come and get acquainted."ADDITIONAL EAGLE ROCK NEWS

BUSINESS GROWS
WITH ITS CITYWill Have Building With 15,000 Square Feet
Floor Space SoonThe Caddell Motor Company is demonstrating its faith in Eagle Rock by erecting a brick block to be used exclusively by them that when completed will have over 15,000 square feet of floor space. The new building is of brick, and is being built especially as a salesroom and garage for the Ford agency, which this progressive firm has had since July 1.It has not been generally known that Eagle Rock has an exclusive Ford agency, and this has been due largely to the fact that the Caddell Motor Company have been unable to get adequate quarters. Since July 1 they have had temporary headquarters at 222 East Colorado. In speaking of the new project J. G. Caddell, said:
"It is a fact that when completed we will have a Ford agency headquarters that will be second to none in Southern California. We are erecting the building with the idea of service in mind, and will not handle nor work on anything but Ford cars, tractors and trucks. We will carry a full line of parts for Fords, Ford trucks and Fordson tractors, and will be able to make immediate delivery on any of these machines. We aim to give the best service, and to serve the public in a satisfactory manner."The new building will be ready for occupancy about December 1. The service floor will have an enameled surface, which will make it absolutely clean and sanitary. The Caddell firm will ship machines into Eagle Rock by the carload and assemble them in their own shop. They will be so well equipped that they can take the chassis of a Ford and build upon it most any kind of a body desired. Ford sales for the past month by the Caddell Motor Company have averaged over two a day.J. G. Caddell, the manager, is an experienced automobile man. He has been with the Ford company for ten years, recently having charge of the entire business of the company in the San Gabriel valley. He came to Eagle Rock from Glendale, where he had the Ford agency and made an enviable reputation as a business man.Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Laidlaw of Kansas City, Mo., are among the new comers to Eagle Rock. They spent several months touring Southern California, and decided that Eagle Rock suited them best. They have purchased property on Rowland avenue.

Truths in Epigram

The cause of freedom is the cause of God.—Bowles.

Small opportunities are often the beginning of great enterprises.—Demosthenes.

Manners must adorn knowledge, and smooth its way through the world. Like a great rough diamond, it may do very well in a closet by way of curiosity, and also for its intrinsic value; but it will never be worn, nor shine, if it is not polished.—Chesterfield.

GREAT DAYS AT SAN PEDRO

San Pedro prepared with great elaboration for the Cabrillo day fiesta. The San Pedrans made of it a beautiful and impressive occasion. The fact that the Spanish element there is large, and that the descendants of the dons took part, added a touch of realism to the spectacle.

Had Cabrillo realized when he sailed into what now is the harbor of Los Angeles, all the place was to be, he would have scuttled his boat lest homesickness induce him to leave, and settled down. Then his progeny would have been developed into American citizens of great wealth. But he went away. That was his error.

Today San Pedro, although officially a part of Los Angeles, is a fair city, growing rapidly. It is on a solid basis industrially. The charm of its surroundings is bound to make it a splendid residence suburb. It has many factories. On each side of its streets rise buildings of dignity. Before it is the harbor crowded with shipping. Great battleships swing at anchor there, or pass in and out for sea practice. Every since the beginning of the world war it has been a submarine base of importance. The fleet spends vast sums there. The atmosphere of the place is that of life and prosperity.

Nearby is Point Firman, a promontory from which the eye sweeps far over the ocean. Back of the town lie graceful valleys between green hills swept by Pacific breezes. The site is ideal, and there is abundant room for the city to spread.

The modern Cabrillo, landing now, beholds a thriving city. The Cabrillo to land some festival day a century hence, will look upon changes as wonderful, or more wonderful than 1921 presents. For San Pedro has a future sure and great.

"RACE EQUALITY" A RUSE

According to a correspondent the claim to race equality set up by the Japanese is a mere ruse. His explanation is that it was advanced as a sort of smoke screen to hide the real object of Japan. This object, he says, was to gain control of the former possessions of Germany in the Pacific.

While it is true, as every observer knows, that Japan desires these possessions for the advantage they would yield, it is not true that the desire for race equality is a mere pretense. Japan desires to invade the Pacific coast. It already has secured a firmer hold than should have been permitted any alien people. Its purported right to be represented here in such numbers, and to have full advantages of all the educational facilities here provided, rests alone on the argument of racial equality. Therefore Japan is not likely to recede from this position morally, although it will have to defer to American sentiment in employing it as a working theory.

Doubtless full justice will be done Japan in the adjustment of its rights on the Pacific. That it is to be permitted to proceed exactly as though it held title to that large body of water is not within reason. This does not point to war; not at all. It merely accentuates the fact that civilization shows unwonted signs of being civilized, and that admiration for justice as a principle of international relations is increasing.

THROWING LLOYD GEORGE

Recently Lloyd George was informing the house of commons as to the great value of Japanese aid in the war. It is pity his address is not available to American readers. The point is one on which they may need light. Anyhow, the premier warmed up so as to declare unthinkable the policy of lessening the intimacy of Great Britain's with Japan.

Then he set out, as a cardinal policy of the government, action in complete harmony with the United States. He expressed hope that the alliance with Japan could be merged into an understanding both with Japan and the United States as to all problems in the Pacific. He thought by this the peace of the world might be assured.

His talk sounded well enough to any listener who did not analyze it, or who failed to perceive that the attitude of George was that of a man riding two horses. Even the skilled rider must have trained steeds. George's pair were cavorting, jumping side-wise, bucking. His position was precarious.

Somebody in the audience hurled a single word. The horses snorted and stopped. The rider flew over their heads. The word was "China" and there was an interrogation mark implied.

The purpose of Japan is to subjugate China. There is hardly an attempt at concealment of the purpose. The effort to conceal it would be futile. Japan looks upon China as its prey. It never will have the co-operation, or consent, or passive acquiescence of the United States.

At the conference of November 11 will be representatives of Australia, Canada and New Zealand. The interests of these colonies in respect of the Japanese is similar to that of this country. Great Britain would hear from them as strong a protest against siding with Japan in its scheme of despoilation, as could be expected from the American delegates.

Lloyd George, who is much respected in this country, is at liberty to mount as many horses as he pleases, and stick on as long as he can. His efforts afford an interesting spectacle. But when one horse is a Yank and the other a Jap, the pair will refuse to track. Then the perch of the premier will prove treacherous, and his balance fail him.

NAMING STREETS

Considerable character may be expressed in the names of streets. It is possible to convey some sense of local color in such titles. There is the privilege also of preserving the memory of individuals the community may desire to honor.

However, there is a very practical side to street nomenclature. Intelligently devised, the names constitute a guide to the stranger. This is important. It constitutes the reason for designating some of the streets by number. The plan in many cities is so to designate streets running east and west. Streets that cross these may be given names.

In a city the size of Los Angeles the casual visitor must enquire his way. If told that the place he desires to reach is at Hill and Eleventh streets, he has only to go to Hill, and then his intelligence shows him the direction in which to move.

He may be told that the place is at Hill and Pico. This information in itself means little to him. When he reaches Hill there is nothing to indicate to him which way to turn to find Pico.

Numbered streets also serve as a guide in another way. If the stranger wants to go to the 800 block on Broadway, he knows that the point is between Eighth and Ninth streets.

These are small but useful facts to have in mind when affixing names to streets. Poetry, romance and history have their proper stations. They do not relate to urban thoroughfares. The wayfarer is not interested in them. He wants to know how to get where he is going. The library is available for poetry, romance, history and other mental food.

A LAND WITHOUT SMILES

A correspondent of the Associated Press writes from Moscow that Russia is a land without smiles. No brief sentence could be more significant.

In traveling many miles through the desolation of that country he had not heard a hearty laugh. The sense of humor seems to be dead. There is nothing suggesting the brighter side of life. Despair has full sway.

"For smiles from reason flow
To brute deny'd, and of love the food."

It would be impossible to mingle with any American crowd and not see faces beaming with happiness, and hear voices vibrant with laughter. This is not because there is a callous ignoring of conditions, for much there is to excite sympathy and tears; it is that despite all ills, there yet is joy. There is a buoyancy of spirit, rising out of the belief that all is well.

In Russia the people have been forced into depths of misery into which no ray of light may penetrate. They are under a tyranny that has devastated their fields, and deprived their souls of hope. They know nothing but wretchedness, and looking ahead, they see no relief but in death.

A land without a smile is a dreadful place.

ENGLISH WIT

By Dr. Frank Crane.

There has been a great deal of fun poked by Americans at the Englishman for his lack of a sense of humor. It remains true, however, that the best comic operas come from England, and that ought to teach us something.

I have been looking over the English papers and have collected a few samples of English wit which may show us that America has no monopoly of a sense of humor.

Dean Inge told the story of a certain vicar's cook. One evening at family prayers they allowed her to select the hymn. After the ceremony was over the vicar's wife said to the cook, "That was a very nice hymn you chose this evening."

"Yes, mum," said the cook, "it is the number of my policeman."

Another story is told of a Cockney who got a job out in the country. He had to drive a horse to the village for the farmer who employed him, and was told that he must be careful to keep the rein from the horse's tail.

When he returned the farmer asked him if he had any trouble. "Oh, no!" he answered, "we only had one shower, and while it lasted I managed to hold an umbrella over the horse's tail."

Another tale of a different character is told of a lady who discovered dust on her table in the drawing room. She reproved the servant, saying, "Mary, I can write my name on this table." The maid beamed. "Yes, ma'am," she said, "I always say there is nothing like education."

Two London newspaper boys were arguing. One said, "I am short a penny." "Well," said the other, "you don't accuse me of taking it, do you?" "No," said the first. "I don't just say you look it." But I say this that I am a penny short and you are eating a cake."

The following child story comes from the country. A little boy had been watching a blacksmith. He came back home and told his mother he had seen a man who makes real horses. "He had just finished one," he said, "and was nailing on one of its feet."

An old lady said to her nephew, "I am old-fashioned enough to believe that honesty pays." "Yes," replied the nephew; "quite so, and dishonesty gets paid."

A young man was courting his girl in the parlor. "May I kiss you, Jennie?" he asked. "Oh, mother's in the other room," she said. "That is all right," he replied. "Your father can kiss her."

If these anecdotes do not amuse you, perhaps you are deficient in a sense of humor.

THE LISTENING POST

A man works in a large establishment.
With millions of capital invested and thousands of employees.
He is merely a humble worker.
As we all are or ought to be humble.

Here is a country of more than a hundred millions of people.
And hundreds of billions of invested capital.
Forty-eight states of us.
Each one of them a kingdom in itself.

Yet we get along well together and we have few family quarrels.

And not once do we declare war on each other.
The governor of California does not notify the governor of Arizona that if such-and-such is not so-and-so within thirty days he will march his troops upon Arizona.

Indeed he does not.
For if he did his Uncle Samuel would reach out with his hard and calloused hand and spank him vigorously.

And send him home about his own business.

If the governor of California and the governor of Arizona have a difference of opinion, there is an established and judicial way of settling it.
All questions can be adjusted by some tribunal.
For there is an agency of right that can be appealed to and its decisions are final.

Why do we get along as a family of states without war and bloodshed?

Simple enough:
We speak the same language, have the same ideals and live with the right spirit.
Which is that of friendliness.

We give and take.
Just as nations ought to do.
And as they will have to do if civilization is to survive at all.

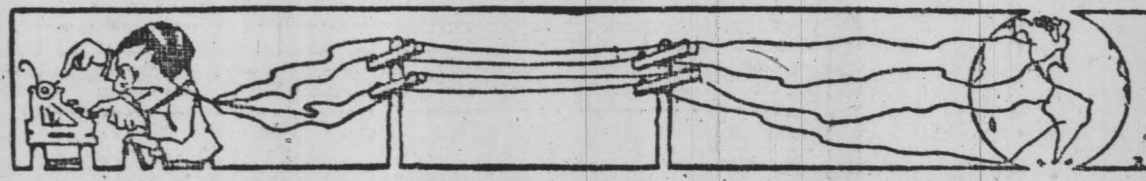

For we cannot go on killing and maiming each other and destroying accumulated wealth and not go back to savagery.

The person who thinks a civilization like this cannot go down in fire and terror, has not read history to good advantage.

The most exquisite building in the world, such as the cathedral of Reims, can be laid in dust with dynamite.

War is the dynamite of civilization.

But the point we make is that it is possible for states to live in harmony.
Without warfare.
Even where their interests are different.

SONGS OF THE POETS

The Star—By Jane Taylor (1783-1824)

Twinkle, twinkle, little star,
How I wonder what you are,
Up above the world so high,
Like a diamond in the sky.

When the blazing sun is set,
When the grass with dew is wet,
Then you show your little light,
Twinkle, twinkle all the night.

Then the traveler in the dark
Thanks you for your little spark,

He could not see where to go
If you did not twinkle so.

In the dark blue sky you keep,
And often through my curtains peep,
For you never shut your eye
Till the sun is in the sky.

As your bright and tiny spark Lights the traveler in the dark,
Though I know not what you are,
Twinkle, twinkle little star.

Of course the United States will place its cards on the table at the conference. It can't do so ahead of the deal.

EASTERN POINT OF VIEW

IT TAKES A MAN

[New York Evening Post]

"You can judge the temper of a man," said one of the great preachers, "by the fashion in which he faces the inevitable." Among the men who peddle gloom, who sing the doleful songs one hears when things go badly or do not go at all, there are those who calmly "plug along," without whimpering or sign of fear. Even when they seem to fail, they are winning—the only victory that counts.

If you can see things all awry, stand in the midst of strain and crash, watch your own plans going wrong, and while others moan and blubber, cheerily start all over again, perhaps as Kipling says, "with worn-out tools," the world may draw courage from the spirit that is everlasting force. And as for you—"you'll be a man, my son!"

NEW YORK FOR RUM

[New York World]

E. C. Yellowley, assistant director of prohibition enforcement, who came to New York to hold the city to the letter of the Volstead law, has returned to Washington in search of advice and reinforcements.

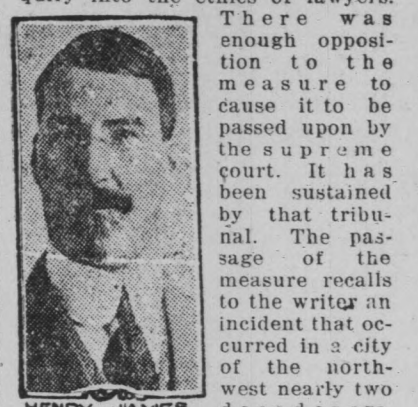

He gave no statement to the press in regard to his errand, but an unnamed supervising enforcement agent made up for deficiency by remarking that $500,000,000 a year and 1,000,000 special officers would be required to make the metropolitan area dry. He said, in addition, that there were at present more stills in New York than were ever discovered in the mountains of the south, that the city's liquor traffic exceeds the records of pre-prohibition days, that no other statute had ever been violated so extensively as the liquor laws, and that there were "more desperate characters banded together in the illicit liquor trade than ever were engaged in a single unlawful enterprise in the history of the country."

New York, it becomes more and more apparent, is not going dry. Mr. Yellowley does not hope for a half-billion appropriation yearly nor for a million assistants, yet it is admitted that without enforcement safeguards on this gigantic scale the city will drink as usual. Meanwhile mock enforcement pays as well as though it were real, and undoubtedly the work will go on.

Comment on the News

By HENRY JAMES

In the state of Washington they have a law now that permits inquiry into the ethics of lawyers.

There was enough opposition to the measure to cause it to be passed upon by the supreme court. It has been sustained by that tribunal. The passage of the measure recalls to the writer an incident that occurred in a city of the northwest nearly two decades ago. Living in the city was a lawyer famous, or infamous, for his ability to procure acquittals for guilty clients. He specialized in murderers. Any accused person retaining the services of this lawyer was regarded as having by one act made a confession of guilt, and issued notice of defiance. One day the lawyer had defeated justice in about his usual style. He had caused a red-handed assassin to be turned loose. Everybody knew the man deserved hanging. The jury knew it. That evening the lawyer, having become loquacious—this being before prohibition days—was bragging of his success. "That makes eleven," he said. "What do you think of that?" "I think," was the response, "that you ought to be hanged eleven times." The lawyer laughed heartily at the joke.

"You know how we do it, of course," he said. Then he proceeded to tell. These were his words, so far as memory serves: "When a man wants me to defend him on a murder charge he must tell me the truth. If I think he is guilty, and he denies his guilt, I refuse his case. When he gives up all the facts we build a story containing as many elements of truth as possible. This leaves gaps that have to be filled. It is easy enough to get a witness who will swear to anything for $25. We drill such a witness until he is letter-perfect. His story fits into the gaps. With the story complete we have the jury puzzled if not convinced. If the worst comes to worst, it is not difficult to see a juror or two and get a disagreement. Oh it's a great scheme," and he grinned with approbation.

It was impossible to get under the hide of the fellow. Rebuke he took as a joke. He tried to argue that the course of an editor was similar to his own. He was proved a liar on the spot, and took that as a joke, too. Perhaps this is more about him than the facts warrant, but yet it is he and his type that make necessary some restrictions apparently not imposed by the code of ethics governing decent lawyers. The presence of such moral morons is no reflection upon an honorable calling. Doubtless a ruling that would expel the crooks would be welcome.

A lawyer arrives from Chicago to appear in a notable murder case. He will defend the prisoner. Heralding his arrival there is printed a long list of the acquittals he has brought about. This does not make good reading. It has an unfortunate tendency to set up a prejudice against the prisoner. The acquittals of record may represent an exact justice, but they present no such aspect in the bare statement of them. The reader judges, perhaps unfairly, that the methods sought to be corrected in Washington still prevail in the courts of Illinois.

Evidence comes to light that one difficulty in getting testimony against the bootleggers lies in the fact that such evidence may be given only at grave personal risk. The men who hawk the stuff that passes for whisky now are desperate characters. This may be understood when one realizes their complete indifference as to whether the liquor is fatal in effect. It also is true that if the liquor is better than the poisonous "moonshine" it often is the booty of some robbery carried on with violence.

The theft of money taken at the Sunday morning collection in a Monrovia church introduces into the era of criminal activity a touch of novelty. Perhaps the thieves justify themselves on the ground that the money was gathered for the heathen, and that this gives them a sort of title to it.

Women in Vienna recently made a rush upon the shops, taking what they could grab. They were so rough that the police had to interfere, and some were borne off to the calaboose. However, anybody who has witnessed a genuine bargain sale of pots and pans, or something like that, in an American city, is not prepared to believe that the Viennese ladies were any more earnest.

Columbus stood an egg on end. Until this mischance, it is understood to have been a very good egg. When the egg of the modern mart is placed in water, and voluntarily stands on end, suspicion crowds into the mind of the beholder. The well-behaved egg does not act in such fashion. Standing on end is the sign of senility acquired by cold storage experience.

FAMILY DINNER
FOR MRS. E. C. COLES
Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Guthrie of 318 Patterson avenue entertained at a family dinner on Monday evening, the affair being in honor of Mrs. Guthrie's mother, Mrs. E. C. Coles.

Other guests included, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Cross, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Giff, Bobbie and Bettie Giff, Roberta and Lynn Coles, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Campbell of Los Angeles and Mrs. Lou Granger of Santa Monica.

GLENDALE D. A. R. MEMBERS AT TEA
A very charming musical-tea was given yesterday afternoon by the Southern California members of the Daughters of the American Revolution at the Ambassador hotel in Los Angeles. There were over 500 women present from the various chapters, 18 of whom were from Glendale.
A delightful program by members of chapters, preceded the tea. Those who took part in this were the Misses Grace and Lou Kellar of Monrovia, two especially gifted young women, who set their own words to music; Mrs. Herndon of Glendale, a very clever reader, and Miss Thelma Pixley, an accomplished pianist.

REBEKAHS HOLD INTERESTING SESSION
More than one hundred members and visitors were present at the meeting of Carnation Rebekah Lodge last night in Odd Fellows' hall when six candidates were initiated. District Deputy Mrs. Smith of Eastgate lodge was present with a delegation of thirty from her home lodge and Mrs. Effie Adams, past district deputy president accompanied the delegation. Among the out-of-town guests were Mrs. James Minty of Tacoma, and Robert Corbin of Sherburne, Ind.
Candidates initiated were James B. Wilkins, Mary K. Holm, Max Jurensen, Mr. and Mrs. Albert D. Hurd, and Mrs. Mabel Goodfellow was admitted by transfer from Vesta Lodge, New York City.
Talks for "the good of the order" were made by all the candidates and by the district deputy president and past district deputy president. During a social hour which followed, refreshments were served.

P. E. O. CHAPTER HAS PROGRAM
Mrs. W. C. Wattles, 1218 South Glendale avenue, entertained the A. H. Chapter, P.E.O., at a luncheon yesterday, and was assisted by Mrs. Nora Tuttle and Mrs. Ziza Davenport. Table and house decorations were in yellow chrysanthemums and fern and proved very effective.
A delightful program was enjoyed

IF BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS BOTHER
Eat Less Meat, Also Take Glass of Salts Before Eating Breakfast
Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.
Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from a pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.
Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble in the afternoon, Mrs. Carver of Los Angeles reading a paper read at the P. E. O. convention last April. Mrs. Clyde Carmack sang two pretty solos and Mrs. Dr. Mabry gave a very pleasing reading. There were 24 ladies present, Mrs. J. C. Huntley and Miss Aston being the other guests.

WOMEN'S SOCIETIES MEET THEIR PLEDGE
The all-day meeting of the Women's Societies of the Glendale Presbyterian church was held Tuesday with 90 members present.

It was "Dollar Day" and every woman was expected to turn in a dollar she had earned, with a verse telling how the money had been secured. The returns totaled $132 and completed the $1000 pledge made by the societies for 1921 towards the fund for the new church.
Following a very nice luncheon served by Mrs. R. Isitt and her committee, a missionary program was given of which Mrs. Glen Porter had charge, assisted by Mrs. Heller and Mrs. Smith. The topic of the afternoon was "Alaska Indians."

HALLOWEEN PARTY PLANNED BY LADIES
Ladies of the Casa Verdugo Methodist church prepared the supper served to sixty members of the Christian Circle Club last night at the Baptist church. Announcement was made that the next meeting, October 23, would be a Halloween party.
Following the supper there was the usual scripture study, the seventh chapter of the gospel according to St. Mark being the theme, with Miss Maude Soper as leader.

MRS. CUTTER IS HOSTESS TUESDAY
Mrs. Charles E. Cutter of 337 West Burchett street entertained a few friends Tuesday afternoon. The house was attractively decorated in chrysanthemums and dahlias combined with fern.
During the afternoon the ladies served and dainty refreshments were served. Those present included Mrs. H. Henry, Mrs. E. Hensel, Mrs. J. E. Rockhold, Mrs. I. Martin, Mrs. Glasel and the hostess, Mrs. Charles Cutter.

LITERARY SECTION PROGRAM TUESDAY
A very fair number of Tuesday Afternoon Club members gathered at Masonic Temple Tuesday afternoon by the Literary section. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Charles Hutchinson, the first vice-president, Mrs. A. M. Williams, presided.
At the business session Mrs. C. L. Marlenee presented to Mrs. Williams as chairman of ways and means, a check for $100, proceeds, over and above expenses, of the "Persian Garden" performance put on in Verdugo Woodlands, under the auspices of the Music section. Mrs. Marlenee explained the handicaps that prevented larger returns, and expressed her warm appreciation of the loyal work done by Mesdames Hagood, Parker, Kinney, Cable, Robinson, Miss Daniels and others.

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery challenged members to rally to the support of their queen, Mrs. Warren Roberts, in the contest in connection with the local Legion Post Festival. Mrs. Montgomery set forth in a convincing manner the mortification the club would suffer should its candidate be defeated, and stated that a canvass of the business district would be made today by members of the decoration committee. Every member was urged to procure tickets and make an effort to sell them.
The program was staged as though it were a meeting at the home of Mrs. Williams, who welcomed each lady in the group as she took her place upon the platform in the circle representing the section. It opened with a few announcements by Mrs. Williams, who then introduced Mrs. John C. Dunn as the member who would present a review of the current magazines.
Mrs. Dunn's contribution covered articles of outstanding interest in the North American Review, the Review of Reviews, Scribner's, Harper's, Current Opinion, Sunset Magazine, Literary Digest, and Ladies' Home Journal, and made every woman present desire to read each number mentioned.
An exhaustive review of the book, "The Rising Tide of Color Against White Supremacy" (Stoddard), was presented by Mrs. F. L. Hollingsworth in a masterly manner, and then Mrs. Harriet Clinton Wilcox told the story of "Invisible Minnie," which she truthfully described as a picture of a group of characters rather than a novel. It was a somber bit of realism marvelously recited by Mrs. Wilcox.

Bank Grows Rapidly.
The Eagle Rock bank is enjoying a growth that is fully in keeping with the rapid strides of the municipality. And it is meeting every demand made upon it by this rapidly growing community. Housed in one of the most modern buildings in this section, with a progressive and careful business man at its head the Bank of Eagle Rock is doing more than its shares in the upbuilding of Eagle Rock and vicinity.

Banquet.—The ladies of the Congregational church will give a banquet in the 20th Century Woman's club Tuesday evening, November 1. Good speakers will be on hand and a program of unusual merit is promised.
Card Party.—A card party is one of the diversions offered the Eagle Rock people at the Woman's Club House Thursday night. These card parties are given bi-monthly and are looked forward to with interest by lovers of whist, etc. Cards begin promptly at 8:30. Mrs. A. S. Johnson, Mrs. Godfrey Edwards and Mrs. W. E. Bruce are hostesses for the evening.

Y. M. C. A. Meetings.—After a season of rest the Y. M. C. A. secretary has again started club meetings among the school students of Eagle Rock and vicinity. Wm. Hall and C. E. Hull, two Occidental students, have charge of the meetings for Seventh and Eighth grade boys. Leaders for the other grades are being selected.

It is planned to have the boys who were members of the Y. M. C. A. clubs here last year, but who are now attending the Glendale Union High School to affiliate with the clubs in Glendale.

POSTOFFICE MOVED TO NEW LOCATION IN NEAR FUTURE

New Equipment Has Been Acquired for More Convenient Quarters

Within the next few days the postoffice will be removed to one of the new brick store rooms on South Central avenue, the building for which is about completed. For some time the need for better postal facilities has been very apparent, and the chamber of commerce, and various other organizations and individuals have sought to induce Uncle Sam to provide better facilities.

The postoffice will be opened in its new home about November 1. Modern equipment will be installed, including several hundred boxes for patrons, which will be put in in sections permitting the addition of more boxes as required. Eagle Rock as yet will have to remain a branch of the Los Angeles postoffice, but the change to be made will provide ample postal service for the present. A superintendent and five carriers and several clerks will be added to the present force and the delivery system will take in Occidental College district, Rockdale, and extend to Verdugo roads. Provision is also made for an increase in the force as required by the growth of the population.

FEED AND FUEL BUSINESS

A. A. Herrman and Howard Bliss, experienced feed and grain men, have purchased the Eagle Rock Feed and Fuel company, and are largely increasing their business by adding a better stock and giving A-1 service to their patrons. They carry a full line of seeds, feed, hay, grain, fuel, etc., and there is no need of leaving Eagle Rock to get supplies in their line.

GOOD BAKERY

Eagle Rock has a first class bakery. In fact a bakery that would be a credit to a town many times the size of Los Angeles. C. F. Mueller, the proprietor, is an experienced man in his line, and is giving the public a service and selling at a price that is bringing him a good business. He expects to make many improvements in his business in the near future. He deserves a good patronage.

Third of Million in Street Work.

Over $250,000 has been expended in paving streets, putting in cement gutters, curbs and sidewalks. A remarkable piece of work has been completed—the city paving 59 streets with rock and oil. And these with the two main boulevards running through the city, make about 28 miles of paved streets.

Dan Carney and family are entertaining their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Ikesberry, from Iowa. This is their first trip here and they are much impressed with Eagle Rock.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Miller and their guests, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gordon, from New Prague, Minn., enjoyed the week-end at Santa Barbara, making the trip by auto.

P. H. Todd of Oakland spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Todd.

Mr. and Mrs. Thornburg and children of Los Angeles have moved into the Elliott property, which they have purchased.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harrold of Los Angeles have purchased Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson's home and have taken possession.

Henry Wilson and family of Versailles, Mo., have come to make their home in Eagle Rock, and will occupy the J. H. Sheets house.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Woody and family have moved into the house near the Central school building, vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Parker.

Miss Ida Balch of Sixteen, Mont., and niece, Miss Emma Seamans of Seattle Lake, N. D., are visiting the former's brother, George Balch.

Harold Osborne was injured at school. He will be out of school for a while.

Last week Mrs. C. M. Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Christiansen and daughter of Anaheim, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Dorr of East Adams avenue.

Mrs. C. W. Sanders of East Sycamore avenue, who has spent the past three months on a delightful visit back East, has returned home. She visited in Wisconsin, Iowa, and Illinois while away.

R. C. Quinby and family motored here from Idaho to visit his sister, Mrs. W. S. Gage and mother, Mrs. J. V. Quinby of Glendale. They have gone to Visalia, where they have purchased land.

Mrs. Ada Roberts had the misfortune to fall and break her well limb a short time ago. She is at Santa Monica where she is recovering slowly. Her many friends hope she will soon be out again.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Smith and son of Honolulu have moved into one of J. T. Byrne's new bungalows on East Eagle. Mr. Smith owns a sugar plantation in that country.

Mr. Rooley from Springfield, Mass., was called here by the death of his mother-in-law, Mrs. M. Stead, and to act as administrator of her estate.

Her son Douglas is packing up his household goods and will return to Massachusetts to make his home.

C. I. Ritchey and wife are expected home this week from an extended eastern trip which took them as far as Montreal, New York and other points.

P. C. Beamish, formerly owner of a restaurant at Glendale, has been assisting Mr. Miller in the Eagle Rock cafe this week.

NEW CAFE OPENED BY THE MILLERS
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller have opened the Eagle Rock cafe at 115 South Central avenue, in a new building, with new equipment and an experience of many years in the business. They are enabled to give Eagle Rock a first class eating place.

They are much pleased with the Gem City, having come here from Claremont. They expect to build a home in the near future.

KANSAS CITY PEOPLE OPEN UP A BUSINESS
Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Williams of Kansas City Mo., are new arrivals in Eagle Rock, coming here a short time ago to visit Mrs. Williams' mother, Mrs. J. E. Cocks, of 201 West Ridge way.

They became so well pleased with Eagle Rock that they decided to remain here and have opened a store and sewing school at 216 East Colorado. She will carry a general line of notions and dress findings and will teach sewing in all its branches.

Big Garage and Sales Room.
The Edwards Building company of Hollywood has under way a $20,000 brick block at 138-142 West Colorado street. When completed the greater part of this block will be occupied by the Caddell Motor company, which has the Ford agency, and will open a garage and sales room as soon as the structure is ready. This building will be the largest business block in Eagle Rock under one roof and will have 15,000 square feet of floor space.

Three New Brick Blocks.
During the past two months three new brick blocks have been completed, and several more are under construction. At present Edwards & Wilkey are taking the lead in building operations at Eagle Rock, having two big brick blocks besides other buildings under way. At the corner of Central and Colorado this firm is building a two story brick facing Colorado, with a story brick facing Central, each having two large rooms on the first floor, with offices in the second story on Colorado. Sam Selig will take the entire frontage on Central avenue and will open a grocery and meat market about Nov. 1. Edwards and Wilkey plan to have an office in the block on Colorado. At 127 South Central avenue Edwards & Wilkey have completed another brick block. The postoffice will be moved into one of these commodious rooms, and Wilkey Helmbaugh will open an electrical store in the other.

How, When and Where to Buy At Home

Martha Alicia tours the stores of Glendale and tells you what's what and where it is in the various stores visited today. The Glendale Daily Press Shopping Guide by Martha Alicia is an index for readers who are looking for value for every cent they spend. Read Martha Alicia's latest tour.

'TIS RUMORED THAT THE MANTLE of Caruso is about to fall on the shoulders of Mario Chamlee, the popular young Brunswick artist! And have you heard any of Chamlee's marvelous recordings? Well, indeed, you might almost imagine 'twas Caruso himself, were you to come into the NEW ARTISTIC BRUNSWICK SHOPPE, at 126 South Brand boulevard and ask to hear his latest success, O Sole Mio! And today the most cordial good wishes of all lovers of music go to this new "young Caruso" from California, for after all, isn't he "our own"? You see, Mario Chamlee was born thirty-three years ago in Los Angeles, of an Italian father and American mother! His education was entrusted to Achille Alberti, whose studio was in the Philharmonic building, and it was here that his debut was made with a local traveling opera company. Enthusiasm with the singing profession and desiring to get ahead in his chosen field, but, alas, lacking funds, many of his admirers will remember that he sang for a number of weeks in vaudeville, which enabled him to go East to study. Then followed several other tours from time to time in order to gain enough money to continue his education, until finally, on the stage of the Metropolitan Opera House he achieved his most notable success in the roles of Cavaradossi in "Tosca" the duke in "Rigoletto"—both parts which endeared the late Caruso to the hearts of music-lovers! And, really, in comparing the careers of the two singers, one finds that the early parts of their lives were very similar, for even while Caruso joined the Italian army Chamlee was serving his America during the recent world conflict, and served with the American army in the French campaigns. Mario Chamlee has endeared himself to millions of hearts and lives in millions of homes on Brunswick records. Won't you come into the Brunswick Shoppe and hear and compare Mario Chamlee's recordings with those of the late Caruso?

JUST AS A WOMAN'S HAT speaks her character, so do the walls of your home tell at a glance the secrets of your innermost self. Your home, to be sure, should express your own individuality and personality, but with a quiet and refined taste that is at once soothing to the eye and harmonious with the other furnishings. L. H. ALLISON, 105 W. Broadway, who is an interior decorator, has just received a shipment of high class wallpaper in the newest autumnal shades—wallpaper that will add a note of cheeriness to the dullness of rooms or again be the subtling factor in a room where color runs riot. If Mr. Allison selects the paper for your walls you may be sure that the entire room will not only be in good taste, but it will be individual—in a manner such as to make it even distinctive from all others. And, too, you will find that Mr. Allison's prices are much more reasonable than the city prices on the same line of goods. This is known to be a fact and you can easily find out for yourself by just shopping around a bit, but surely you'll come back to Allison's in the end.

HAVENT' YOU ALWAYS BEEN simply fascinated with the intricacies of an electric range? So have I, but today my doubts were all explained away! Yes, indeed, at the GLENDALE ELECTRIC CO., of 132 North Brand boulevard, for there Mrs. West of the Landers, Frary Clark Co., is explaining all about the new Universal Electric Range! There are so many radical changes in this new model that I really can't tell you of them all, but you know it is designed particularly for the bungalow or small kitchen, and yet it has the largest oven of any electric range! The element is entirely protected, and thus there isn't any danger of affection from boiling over, and the fuses, too, are separate and easily replaced! Although the oven will heat to 500 degrees in ten minutes, it operates largely on stored heat—and by means of a special damper it may be quickly cooled off! Step in and meet Mrs. West and look at the new Universal, won't you? She will be there during the entire week.

THE SELECTION OF A RUG—the foundation of color and combinations for the entire decorative scheme of your rooms should be given more than casual attention. At the ENTERPRISE FURNITURE CO., 216 Broadway, you'll find a wide selection of fine Axminster and Velvet rugs in rich combinations of colors. There is an unusual variety of distinctive designs in all sizes.

"CHOO-CHOO! CHOO-CHOO-O-O!"

Isn't it just a joy to see your "little man" having such a wonderful time with his "choo-choo train"? But surely this Christmas he's grown up enough to have a real "honest-to-goodness" train, one with an engine that only has to be wound up, and miles and miles of track. At FISHER'S VARIETY STORE, 212 E. Broadway, you'll find a wonderful selection of wind-up trains in one, two and three car combinations, and with the scarlet curves in the tracks—veritable wonders of childhood. The prices are very reasonable—from $1.39 up to $7.50—and you can buy extra track when you need it. But I'd advise you to make your selection now while their stock is complete.

The vogue for combination Volnay or Byzantine red with either black fur or cloth is emphasized in a red suit with flared sides bordered in black fox.

ALWAYS A DELIGHTFUL PICTURE is that of a woman in smart tailored frocks. And particularly does a woman in smart tailored frocks.

Long line, unbelted box coats of Oriental suggestion were shown with frocks.

WHY NOT RETAIN YOUR BEAUTY? It's really so simple when you've met and talked to Mrs. Billig of the BROADWAY BEAUTY PARLOR at 214 East Broadway! If you're hair, for one thing is faded or gray, Mrs. Billig can easily restore it to its natural color with Ok-Lax Special Hair Restorer, and the beauty of it is that this special tonic is not a dye! Superfluous hair, another trying disfigurement for so many women, Mrs. Billig will painlessly and harmlessly remove with Schmidt's Follicle Methicil. Then, of course, she is an expert manicurist and hairdresser too! Next time you're down that way stop in and see Mrs. Billig, for her attractive shop on the second floor.

Gray fur was on a red chiffon velvet evening cape.

Monkey fur to a great extent, with Persian lamb a close second.

A VERITABLE DREAM HOUSE—is the home which J. F. STANFORD of 112 1/2 South Brand boulevard is offering for only $6,800! Why, there is everything imaginable to make a house really beautiful! The lot is 50 by 135 feet, there are fruit trees, large dahlias, a wonderful aviary with the most beautiful canaries, a darling fish pond boasting really truly fish, and a lovely big lawn! Mr. Stanford says it's just in a dandy location, close in and convenient to everything, and then, too, it faces south, too! Of the five rooms in the house two are bedrooms and then there's a nice screen porch. For a house of this kind, the terms are really surprising—only $1,000 down! Call Mr. Stanford today and ask to see it.

A brick color suit with pinched waistline and flare side was trimmed with chenille embroidery.

OF ALL THE DAYS OF ALL THE year, to my mind, Halloween offers the best opportunity for unique entertainment and fun. If you'll just drop in at BOTT'S BOOK STORE at 113 S. Brand boulevard, you'll surely agree with me, for they have a wonderful selection of entrancing novelties for most any kind of a party—everything from wicker skeletons to rose-petal baskets for almonds.

A three-piece suit shown is woven with jet beads and trimmed with monkey fur and another on shorter box lines favors civet cat trims.

Ball Fans Behind Judge Landis if He Puts Sock on Babe

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—Babe's in the sticks, the mountain is about to come to judgment and they just can't put baseball to bed for the winter, until ten million baseball fans throughout the country find out what's going to happen.

And maybe old Father Knickerbocker isn't wearing that before-taking look these days. The possibility of the Busting Bam being barred for a season or so has all New York sitting up and taking post season notice. Babe Ruth and his support continue to appear each matinee, playing to capacity audiences on a small time circuit, with the Bam on first base or trotting about the bases after lifting one over the fence. The pitchers who have been batted for a homer by Babe Ruth will be able to hold a convention this winter.

Judge Kenschaw Mountain Landis is holding up his ace for a couple of rounds, giving Ruth every chance to get out from under before the judicial sock sends him to the bench for a year as far as major league ball is concerned.

And the Yankee colonels, Ruppert and Huston, are backing Landis. The Bam may be their million dollar drawing card, what with home run record and so on but the owners of the New York Yankees are playing the game. The Yankees are looking for an outfielder to take Ruth's place next season. That's how far the thing has gone. Harry Hooper of the White Sox is mentioned as a likely successor to the Bambino, in case he of the homers get suspended. Miller Huggins is known to be combing the batting and fielding averages in search of garden material.

If the axe falls, and the Babe gets his baseball writers and the fans will be back of Landis to a man. The belief here is that the whole affair need never have come to a head if Ruth hadn't acted like a great big kid and gone off to play toy baseball in a great huff, just to show Landis he wasn't afraid to.

MAKE FURNITURE IN GLENDALE NOW

The Russell Furniture company, 1531 South San Fernando road, is the only establishment in Glendale where up-to-the-minute furniture is manufactured. Everything along the furniture line is turned out by this establishment, and it is as good as the furniture to be found anywhere. The manager of this establishment claims "None Better and None Cheaper."

"The people of Glendale are certainly awake to the fact that we can give them more for their money than can any other furniture establishment in Glendale. In connection with this 'Better Home' week we want to say that we can give the people of this valley better furniture for less money than they get elsewhere and we are ready to stand back of this assertion. We can do this by eliminating the middleman's profit. We sell direct from the factory to the user, that's where the secret of our low prices lies."

While this establishment specializes in bed room furniture, all kinds of furniture for all parts of the home is kept constantly on display. So rapidly has the business of this firm grown that it has become necessary to enlarge the establishment several times.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Luster at Once

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients at a large bottle at a little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

White gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and lustrous and you appear years younger.

BUSINESS WOMEN'S CLUB GOES AFTER NEW MEMBERS

Executive Board Plans Open Session Next Tuesday Evening Here

The executive board of the Glendale Business Women's Club met Tuesday night at the office of Dr. Laura Brown with the president, Mrs. Margaret Biggs presiding. Announcement was made that charter membership will close November 11 and for that reason it was considered desirable to put on a campaign for members in the hope that the enrollment could be brought to 100 by that date.

Chairmen of standing committees were named by the president as follows: Membership, Mrs. Mary Baxter; hostess, Dr. Laura Brown; program, Mrs. Quackenbush; friendship, Mrs. Grace Vanbrugh; legislation, Mrs. Kara Root; publicity, Miss E. G. Gibbs; Historian, Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan.

On motion of Miss Sara Pollard, the board voted to make the session of October 25 an open meeting of a social character to which all Glendale business women will be invited. Program plans were informally discussed and it was agreed that they should include social features calculated to promote acquaintance, talks on new business opportunities that are opening for women, local civic doings and world affairs, and other matters of interest that might develop.

The purposes of the organization, it was agreed, should be the promotion of acquaintance among business women and co-operation for the common good in a business and social way. This would be worked out through the regular meetings, the establishment of a department of vocational guidance to help members to find the work to which they are best suited, the establishment as soon as possible of a rest room for the use of members during the noon hour, the compiling of lists of boarding and lodging places for the benefit of new comers, the arranging of parties for members desirous of taking in Los Angeles attractions in the way of lectures, concerts, or theatrical performances, and such other helps possible for such an organization to give as may develop.

It was also decided that the dues, which were fixed at $4 per year, shall be payable quarterly for the convenience of members. Mrs. Quackenbush was instructed to secure quarters for the proposed open meeting and to arrange a program suitable to a social affair.

BEGGED DAUGHTER'S RETURN DECLARES CHIEF OF POLICE

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 19.—Defense and prosecution attorneys drew lines today for what is expected to be the most important skirmish in the battle to free the Rev. Edwin R. Stephenson, Methodist minister, charged with the murder of Father James E. Coyle, Catholic priest.

The story of Stephenson's efforts to reclaim his daughter Ruth, whose marriage to a Porto Rican Catholic, precipitated the slaying of Father Coyle, was told on the witness stand. "On his knees Stephenson begged Ruth to give up the Catholic faith and return to him," said Police Chief Shirley. "Detectives had found her locked up in the home of her Catholic godfather, Fred Bender."

Shirley's testimony went deeper into the minister's trouble than any that had yet been given. He said Stephenson had called on him a number of times prior to the killing to locate his daughter who had left home.

On August 11, the day of the killing, she disappeared again, Shirley said, and Stephenson called him up. "He seemed very excited," Shirley said. "He told me the Catholics had taken her away and asked me to go with him to a convent to search for her. I told him to see the sheriff."

TUJUNGA SCHOOL TO HAVE BUNGALOW

Extend Boulevard to Foot of Sierra Madre Range For Fine Drive

TUJUNGA, Oct. 19.—It is reported that another weekly newspaper is to be started in this community. The Record of the Verdugo Hills, which has been established a little more than a year and is owned and edited by Wallace M. Morgan, has filled the needs of the city in a very satisfactory manner. He has one hundred percent of the advertisers of the valley and his editorial and news columns are conducted with exceptional ability.

It is practically certain that the hall over the grocery store at Sunland will be leased by the Acacia club as a meeting place for a new lodge unit. Members of the Ladies' Aid society met at the Community church yesterday for work.

The school board will build another bungalow school house on the Pine street lot in such a position as to form a court together with the main building and the two other bungalows just completed. Later a bungalow building will be erected on the Palm avenue property.

C. L. Dyer, who was so seriously burned at his laundry on the state highway and who is now at the county hospital, is improving rapidly and expects to be back with his business in a week or two.

Monte Vista boulevard is being extended into the foothills of the Sierra Madre range. When completed it will be one of the most picturesque drives in Southern California.

For Queen of Armistice Day Festivities

MRS. WARREN ROBERTS.

Mrs. Warren Roberts, familiarly known to many of her friends as Fern Roberts, who accepted nomination to represent the Tuesday Afternoon Club in the queen contest in connection with the festival to be put on by the Glendale Post, American Legion, is beloved in every organization of which she is a member, and one reason is because she never shirks any obligation.

In the sisterhood of the P. E. O. she is a bright, particular star. In Glendale's Music Club she has a prominent place by reason of her talent, and everywhere she is welcomed because of her social gifts. Her hospitality is boundless, her response to any appeal for a worthy charity instantaneous, and the Post, as well as the Tuesday Afternoon Club may well feel proud to have this piquant beauty enter the contest.

Talented matron whose many friends are promoting her candidacy for queen of the Armistice Day festivities by the Glendale Post of the American Legion, knowing her to possess the poise, charm and personality to interpret the role of a real queen. Mrs. Roberts is the candidate of the Tuesday Afternoon Club and the members of that organization are working for her selection in the contest now being conducted by the Legion Post

South Glendale

Clarence Wilson, 208 West Eulalia street, who left for the east early in July returned to his home in this city the latter part of last week. It was Mr. Wilson's original intention to remain away until about January, but after reaching his eastern destination he grew so ill that it was deemed wise for him to return to California sooner than he expected.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Griffiths and family of Chicago, who moved to Glendale recently, will soon take possession of their new home at 321 West Eulalia street. This is a home of four rooms and is modern in every way. Mr. and Mrs. Griffiths have fallen in love with Glendale and are determined to remain here permanently.

Mr. Riehenbacher and son, who operate a furniture store on West Los Feliz road, are starting a new home at 1515 Gardena avenue. This home will contain four rooms and will be strictly modern. It is the intention of these gentlemen to build several more homes of this kind, just as soon as arrangements can be made to do so.

The finishing touches are being put by B. G. Jackson on the oil station and garage building at the corner of Eulalia street and South San Fernando road. It is expected that this building will be ready for occupancy by the last of the week and that the opening of both the oil station and garage will take place on Saturday morning. This building is constructed of brick and is cement covered. In the oil station part of the establishment there are three Aero pumps of the finest quality, while the other equipment of the plan will be equally up to date.

A two store room brick building, size 32x32 feet, is being started on the San Fernando road just north of the intersection of the San Fernando road and Central avenue by G. H. McLean, who owns the property at the intersection of these two thoroughfares. This building is to cost about $1000 and it is expected that it will be finished in about thirty days.

Miss Jessie Irwin of Iowa, arrived in Glendale early in the week and is spending some time with Miss Baldwin and Miss Richardson, proprietors of the B. and R. Millinery store on South Fernando road.

The new variety store on South San Fernando road is getting things in readiness for its opening, which will take place about October 25. This store will carry everything that one may expect to find in an up-to-date store of this character.

The Thursday Afternoon Club of South Glendale will meet at the home of Mrs. Leigh Bancroft on Eulalia street tomorrow afternoon. Out of town speakers will be present and it is expected that the session will be both instructive and entertaining.

The regular meeting of the South Glendale Improvement Club will be held in hall over South Glendale library tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock. There are a number of items of business of extreme importance to the southern end of the city that will come up at this meeting and it is desired that there be a large attendance of the residents of that section present.

Word has been received by the many friends in South Glendale of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moore of the arrival at their home in Oxnard of a baby daughter. Mr. Moore was formerly in the real estate business in South Glendale.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Brenkman and family of South San Fernando road, journeyed up to Oxnard and Ventura over the week-end. While in Oxnard they passed some time with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moore formerly of South Glendale.

T. M. Edwards, proprietor of the Glendale Grill on South San Fernando road, has just received word that the drilling of an oil well has been started on his property at Huntington Beach.

Mr. Hips, proprietor of the Tropic Bakery on South San Fernando road, has started the construction of a brick store room just north of his present building. When this building is completed the store room and baking department of the bakery will be enlarged to take in the two buildings.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Baker of South Brand boulevard, are enjoying a visit of several days at Camarillo, where they went in the interest of the Fraternal Brotherhood lodge. Mr. Baker is one of the auditors of that organization.

The Thursday Afternoon Club has just sold its lot at the corner of Maryland avenue and Cypress street. The original intention in purchasing this lot was to construct a clubhouse on this property, but this idea has been abandoned temporarily.

Ray Morrow, who has been a Glendale resident for years and is well known here, left Saturday for San Francisco, where, (say it softly) he is to be married on Wednesday. The name of the fortunate young lady has not been disclosed to the friends of Ray in this city up to this time, but she will be presented to his many friends within a short time, as the young people are expecting to come to Glendale to live permanently. Allen Davenport of Glendale avenue, will leave for San Francisco this evening returning to Glendale tomorrow evening. He will "support" Mr. Morrow at the wedding on Wednesday.

The Thursday Afternoon Club will hold the first regular meeting of the club year, following the holidays, on Thursday, Oct. 27. A number of new members have been taken into the club recently and these along with the old members, all of which are active in the club's operations, are expected to start the club off this year with increased activity. Mrs. E. B. Price is president of the club while Mrs. Storax is secretary and Mrs. E. S. Brown is treasurer.

Miss Blanche Davenport of South Glendale avenue left Saturday for Modesto, where she will visit for several weeks with Mrs. Bowen, who was formerly a resident of Glendale.

FATAL KITE STRING CAUSES DEATH TO LOS ANGELES MAN

Boy Flying Kite Leaves Thin Wire Hanging Over Service Electric Wire

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 19.—One man is dead, a boy is in the hospital with two fingers amputated and two others are recovering from painful injuries following their separate encounters last night with a weird hidden "death trap" caused by a live wire. The wire was a fine copper string with which an unidentified youngster had been flying a kite. With dusk, the boy had tied his kite to a telephone pole and gone home. The upper end of the string came in contact with a high tension wire carrying 34,000 volts. The other end of the wire trailed hundreds of feet across lawns in the neighborhood, hidden in the grass.

Rheinhold Kleinstuber, 48, stepping from the front door of his home touched the fatal string and fell dead. Moses Mendall, a neighbor, attempted to rescue him. A blue streak of flame leaped from Kleinstuber's body. Mendall, badly shocked, was dragged from the death zone by Abraham Skagland. A few minutes later, William McLaughlin, school boy, playing in the yard of his chum, Earl Payurek, fell to the ground screaming, his hands seemingly on fire. The Payurek lad, attempting to aid him, was shocked and knocked several feet away. With remarkable presence of mind, he seized a stick and broke the thread which crossed William's body, saving the latter's life.

Both boys were taken to a hospital. Surgeons amputated two of young McLaughlin's fingers and treated both boys for burns and severe shock. Following the four accidents in rapid succession, J. T. Sorenson of the city power bureau ordered power cut off from the entire district while expert electricians traced and removed the fatal kite string.

WATCH BUTTONS IS ADVICE OF MARTIN

Motorists who fail to go around the button at street intersections in Glendale will no longer be able to give the excuse that they failed to see the button. On orders of Chief of Police Martin all street intersection buttons have been painted white and are visible for quite some distance. In addition to painting the buttons the safety zones at all street crossings are in the process of being repainted and at Broadway and Brand boulevard and at Brand boulevard and San Fernando road arrows to indicate correct course for traffic will be painted in the street. A traffic button will also be installed at the intersection of Brand boulevard and California avenue.

TERRORS OF WAR ARE RELATED HERE TO BROTHERHOOD

Oxnam Tells of Chaotic Conditions in Europe Wrought by War

Those who attended the banquet of the Federated Brotherhood at the First Methodist Church last evening came away with minds well fortified against any arguments for another war, not as a mere sentiment, but as a hard and fast business proposition if world chaos is to be prevented. This was the conclusion drawn from the address of the evening by G. Bromley Oxnam, who spoke on industrial conditions in Europe, where he made a recent survey.

The assembled people were also addressed by C. A. Griffith who explained the organization and work of the county Y. M. C. A. and asked everyone to stand back of the financial campaign being put on to raise funds necessary to carry on the work.

Arthur G. Lindley, president of the Federation, explained the purposes of the Brotherhood and introduced Mr. Oxnam.

His experiences in traversing the war devastated portions of France and Belgium were graphically described by Mr. Oxnam, who spoke of the American cemetery in France, where the bodies of 25,000 soldiers and sailors, and where 40,000 American soldiers will first rest when removed from other cemeteries.

He described the present government in Germany and the feeling of the industrial classes who are supporting it. On the anniversary of the outbreak of the war he chanced to be in Berlin. Huge bonfires marked the observance of the day but everywhere were placards bearing the legend: "War Never Again."

The true situation in Russia he indicated had been veiled by misleading propaganda printed by the newspapers both abroad and here, the people having been made to believe in atrocities that never took place. From the industrial situation in England he gained the impression that the leaders of the labor party representing the industrial classes in England are preparing themselves by study and otherwise to control the government of that country and make of it a greater democracy than it now is. The change will not be revolutionary but evolutionary, he says, and is predicted to occur in ten years and possibly five. For the "British empire" they have substituted the "British commonwealth." The opinions of the speaker were based on his personal observations, and contact and on his talks with Arthur Henderson and other labor leaders whom he met.

The opinion prevails, however, that Europe is heading straight for another world war which will bring about moral and financial chaos unless Christendom combines to prevent it.

To impress his hearers he quoted statistics to prove the fearful waste of the world war which had directly or indirectly brought about the death of thirty million of those who would now be living but for that conflict and the miseries that followed in its wake. The actual destruction of property was figured at 229 billions. Europe is still paying for the waste of the Napoleonic wars, and our children, our grandchildren and great grandchildren will be paying for this last war, he declared.

SCHOOL BOARD TO HEAR ARCHITECTS

A special meeting of the board of education was held at Intermediate yesterday at 1 o'clock at which the returns from the school bond election were canvassed. The board also decided upon a definite plan for hearing architects seeking commissions for designing the buildings to be constructed with the proceeds of the bond issue.

Beginning with Tuesday evening, November 1, every other Tuesday evening will be devoted to hearing architect applicants who will appear before the board by appointment until all have been heard and the matter is settled. The intervening Tuesday evenings will be reserved for the regular work of the board.

PLUMBING IS BIG FEATURE IN HOME

"One of the most important features of the modern home is its plumbing," said Mr. Taylor of the plumbing firm of Coker & Taylor, 209 South Brand boulevard, this morning. With out up-to-the-minute plumbing the home is anything but modern. During the last few years the plumbing has more than kept pace with the other improvements of the home. One feature that should be in every home is the automatic heater. If the modern housewife realized the value of this improvement she would certainly insist upon one being installed in her new home. With this feature you turn the faucet in any part of the home and hot water, heated to any temperature desired is obtainable, almost instantly. These heaters have been so improved that they are as "trouble proof" as the ordinary type of tank heater.

This firm carries everything for the completed home, from the basement to the attic. Everything is carried in bath room appliances and fixtures. The Pittsburgh, Hoffman, and Supurba automatic heaters are kept in stock as are different sizes and kinds of tank heaters. For heating, this firm carries floor furnaces, the new Pacific gas radiator, the Ray-Glo and other gas stoves. The Direct Action gas ranges with the Lorraine hot control are sold by this firm, these being made by the largest stove factory in the world.

The Mueller line of metal parts for the fixtures is carried exclusively. They have bath sprays, showers, etc.

Foley's Friendly Fancies

THE MASTER'S KISS

Because of every piteous prayer
Wrung from thy soul in bleak despair;
For every blush of shame that dyes
Thy cheek, and for thy downcast eyes;
For every sin and blot and stain,
For all the tears that flow again
In hidden sorrow, grief or shame;
For that thy seared flesh leaped to flame
When sin laid on thee, white and hot
A brand like God's accusing blot
Upon the brow of Cain;—for this,
The primal serpent's angry hiss,
I love thee and I pity thee,
Because I knew Gethsemane.

And as I kiss thee—kiss the blot
Where lay that white brand, white and hot,
And as I feel thy tears like rain
And as I read thy soul, in pain
That writhes and cries aloud, I bless
That night when I was comfortless;
When hope from all the hours was fled
When joy lay by me, stark and dead,
When men knew only hate and dread
That I be scourged and crucified.

How could I love and pity thee
Had I not known Gethsemane?

DR. JOHN HEDLEY AT FIRST METHODIST

Dr. John Hedley, a professor at the U. S. C. in the department of Missions and Oriental Literature, is the new pastor of the First Methodist church at Eagle Rock. Dr. Hedley was born in England, and there received his education. In 1897, he went to China, where he served as a missionary for sixteen years. He traveled much and made most careful studies and observations of the country and its people. He has written several books, the most notable being, "Tramps in Mongolia." As a result of his research he was made a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society of London in 1905. He came to this country in 1914, where he has served on the faculty of U. S. C. from that date with the exception of sixteen months served as a Y. M. C. A. secretary and interpreter working with the Chinese regiments of labor, who performed such noteworthy service during the great war. For his outstanding service to and with these Chinese troops the Chinese government conferred upon Dr. Hedley the high honor of the Order of the Striped Tiger.

DEMONSTRATION AT GLENDALE ELECTRIC

A demonstration of the operation of all its electrical appliances is being put on this week by the Glendale Electric company, 132 North Brand boulevard. Mrs. Rena West, who is sent out by the Universal Electric Manufacturing company, will have complete charge of this demonstration, which will start today and will continue all week, every electric utensil or feature being used.

The cooking part of this demonstration will be held from 10 to 12 in the morning and from 2 to 4:30 in the afternoon. To this demonstration every housewife in Glendale is invited.

In addition to electrical appliances this firm carries a complete line of electrical fixtures for the home, and is equipped to do all kinds of electrical installation work. Washing machines, fans, and in fact, everything electrical for the home is carried by this firm. E. R. and V. V. Naudain are proprietors of this establishment.

ENGINEER GOUDY SEES CITY OFFICERS

Engineer Goudy of the state board of health, was in Glendale this morning to confer with the city council and City Manager Reeves regarding the sewerage proposition. He explained the requirements of the state board regarding the installation of a disposal system as proposed by the administration. Engineer Goudy in company with the officials and City Manager Reeves visited the site for the sewer disposal system in Verdugo canyon and gave valuable advice regarding installation.

INTERMEDIATES WIN FROM CERRITOS

The soccer ball game played yesterday afternoon at Intermediate between Intermediate and Cerritos avenue teams, yielded a score of 9 to 3 in favor of Intermediate. Two interschool games are on for this afternoon. One will be a soccer game at Pasadena between teams of Intermediate and Pasadena Military academy. The other a volleyball game between girls of Intermediate and Eagle Rock on the Intermediate grounds.
